Lendlease Celebrates the International Day Against Homophobia Transphobia and Biphobia

(New York, NY, May 17, 2017) Lendlease, one of the world's largest development, property, infrastructure and construction management firms, is a proud supporter of the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Intersex (LGBTI) community. In that spirit, the Americas region will be joining the other regions of Lendlease in celebrating The International Day Against Homophobia Transphobia and Biphobia (IDAHOT).

“At Lendlease our vision is to create the best places and to do that Lendlease must be a best place to work for all,” said Curt Harris, Assistant General Counsel and LGBTIA ERG Chair, Lendlease “By celebrating IDAHOT and showing our support for LGBT community, Lendlease continues its journey to becoming an industry leader in diversity.”

IDAHOT Day unites millions of people in support for human rights for all, irrespective of sexual orientation or gender identity or expression. This year IDAHOT focuses on the families and friends of the LGBT community and the role they play in the wellbeing of their LGBT family members.

In honor of IDAHOT Day Lendlease staff in New York, Boston and Chicago will distribute rainbow colored shoelaces to construction workers to foster solidarity and raise awareness at the following sites:

- Boston - At Clippership Wharf where Lendlease is serving as developer and construction manager. Clippership Wharf development will transform an underutilized section of the East Boston Waterfront that has been vacant for over 25 years into an active vibrant mixed used community with over 478 new homes.
- Chicago - At the Riverline development site where Lendlease is serving a co-developer with CMK Companies on the 14-acre development. In addition, Lendlease is serving as the construction manager for the development that will create over 3,600 residential units on the Chicago River water front over a ten-year timeline.
- New York – At the 281 Fifth development site where Lendlease is serving a co-developer with Victor Group and construction manager on the 55-story Rafael Vinoyl designed condominium tower with retail podium on the base of the tower.
