Indigenous Participation Initiatives at Gosford Hospital Redevelopment

Lendlease recently signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Darkinjung Local Aboriginal Land Council acknowledging a commitment to Indigenous participation on the Gosford Hospital Redevelopment project.

The MoU aims to empower Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people through economic participation in the project by connecting Indigenous people to work opportunities and Indigenous businesses to supply goods and services to the project.

Other objectives of the MoU, which extends to subcontractors and others involved in the project, include acknowledging the Darkinjung people as the traditional custodians of the land and making the project site a place of cultural competency and cultural safety.

Alison Mirams, General Manager NSW/ACT for Lendlease's Building business said the MoU signing was in line with Lendlease's vision for Reconciliation.

"Key to delivering major public projects is providing local opportunities for employment and training. As Australia's largest Building contractor, we are in a good position to work with our clients and stakeholders to create real opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people," said Ms Mirams.
