Lendlease appoints new Managing Director for Development

Lendlease has named Bek Seeley as its new Managing Director for Development in Europe.

Bek, who joined Lendlease in 2015 as Commercial and Finance Director, brings a wealth of commercial and operational expertise to the role, having most recently held the position of Chief Operating Officer for Development. She has been instrumental in winning a number of major projects for Lendlease including Euston, Thamesmead, Silvertown and Birmingham Smithfield, and will now focus on delivering projects across its European portfolio.

Bek's career has spanned the public and private sectors, having held a range of operational and commercial roles including in economic development, infrastructure, built environment and public services.

Lendlease's new Managing Director for Development, Bek Seeley, said: "I look forward to working with the team to deliver significant homes, jobs, infrastructure and create places that sustain thriving communities."

Neil Martin, CEO for Lendlease Europe, said: "I'm confident Bek will continue to build on the successful delivery of our extensive pipeline in Europe. The sheer breadth and scale of her experience speaks for itself, and we look forward to the leadership she will bring to our projects at a time of huge growth for the company."
