

Sustainability spotlight on Lendlease's master-planned communities

Brisbane, 26 April 2018: Lendlease's leadership in sustainable living was in the spotlight this week, as industry leaders toured two of Brisbane's most sustainable communities, Yarrabilba and Springfield Rise at Spring Mountain.

Green Building Council of Australia's Chief Executive Officer, Romilly Madew, presented Yarrabilba with a plaque for the highest rating for sustainable precincts in Australia, demonstrating World Leadership by achieving a 6 Star Green Star - Communities rating, as well as Springfield Rise at Spring Mountain for its 5 Star Green Star - Communities rating, representing Australian Excellence in sustainable precincts.

Quotes attributable to Managing Director of Lendlease's Communities business, Matthew Wallace

"These ratings and the benchmark they set for communities of the future are important and valuable.

"Some of the high scoring sustainable initiatives include Australia's first master-planned community to feature a Veefil fast electric-vehicle charger, CSIRO Virtual Power station study and safety around construction sites.

"Both projects are the result of Lendlease's approach to social, economic and environmental innovation, underpinned by a strong sense of community, jobs growth and the integration of sustainable urban agriculture."

Quotes attributable to GBCA's Chief Executive Officer, Romilly Madew

"Lendlease was the first company in Australia to attain a 6 Star Green Star – Performance rating for an entire portfolio of assets and their innovative approach is evident in the many ground-breaking initiatives implemented at Yarrabilba and Springfield Rise at Spring Mountain.

"Achieving the level of Green Star certification that Lendlease has at Yarrabilba and Springfield Rise is a terrific result and translates into demonstrable benefits not only for the environment, but for the people joining these communities.

"These projects are in a class above and part of Lendlease's expanding and impressive portfolio of sustainable projects. They are a testament to Lendlease's ongoing leadership and commitment on sustainability."
