Meet the Six Pack of The Gardens on Lindfield

Helensvale, 12 May 2016: United by lawn bowls, six residents from The Gardens on Lindfield have been coming together every Tuesday afternoon for the past decade to enjoy a spot of afternoon 'men's time'.

The tradition began more than 10 years ago when Bill, Bram and Norm decided to start bowling with another former resident after their weekly organised fitness class.

The Six Pack gets its name from the number of gents involved, but they explain that six is just an easy number to organise a weekly game. The real reason for the name stems from a post-match ritual.

"We thought it wouldn't be a bad idea for someone to bring along a six pack for the end of the game," said Bill.

So, in typical Aussie spirit, weekly catch-ups are transformed into a relaxing game of bowls, lots of laughs and an ice-cold beer.

"It's something regular that we look forward to and all feel very lucky to have formed such great friendships in the later part of our lives," Bram says.

When asked if they've thought about who's next in line to join the group, The Six Pack calmly shrugs off the question.

"Shall we say, there are very few ways to leave our club, you know what they are, don't you? You're in for life," Bill said.
