Following a fantastic July of family days, blockbuster films, live streaming of the Royal Opera House's Summer Season and much more, Stratford Summer Screen is coming to an end on 8 September 2019 with the last opportunity to catch a range of fun activities and summer screenings at International Quarter London (IQL).

In the coming weeks, Stratford Summer Screen will play host to an exciting array of dedicated Saturday Family Days (17 August and 7 September) and evenings of live entertainment (23 August) all outdoors and completely free of charge:

- August 17: Aardman Family Day
Kids of all ages can learn to make your own clay models with the team from Aardman to accompany Early Man on the big screen at 12:00pm.
Activities include:
 - Aardman Clay Modelling Workshop at 11am, 1:45pm and 3:00pm
 - Rhubarb Theatre performances from 1:45pm
 - World's Tallest Bubbleologist Walkabout 11:00am - 4:00pm
- August 23: Swing Patrol
Come and enjoy live music and dancing lessons with the crowd favourite swing dancing group. Add a vintage twist to your Friday night and learn classic swing dances like the Lindy Hop with sessions starting from starting from 6.30pm. This activity is inclusive, fun and energetic and suitable for all ages and abilities.

- September 7: Lego Family Day
Bring the summer to a close with the ultimate Lego fun day with workshops, entertainment and the screening of The Lego Movie 2.

On top of all of this, the Stratford Summer Screen will continue its outdoor Thursday evening movie screenings kicking off with the multi-Oscar winning Forrest Gump on 15 August. This will be followed with some of the nation's favourites including The Greatest Showman (22 August), Mamma Mia! Here We Go Again (29 August) and Jurassic Park (5 September). Alongside this, the screen will live stream The Ashes and The US Open Tennis throughout August and September.

'Forrest Gump' and 'The Greatest Showman' both featuring in the programme at Stratford Summer Screen
